THE PRESIDENT'S TARIFF MESSAGE

He Calls For Speedy Agreement on New Bill.

A DEFICIT OF $100,000,000

Says That the Party Is Pledged to Tariff Revision and Refers to Inaugural Address For Principles Upon Which, In His Judgment, the Revision Should Proceed.

Washington, March 17.—President Taft's message pointing out the necessity for a revision of the tariff was read in both branches of congress and met with prolonged applause from the Republicans. The message in full follows:

"I have convened the congress in this extra session in order to enable it to give immediate consideration to the revision of the Dingley tariff act. Conditions affecting production, manufacture and business generally have so changed in the last twelve years as to require a readjustment and revision of the import duties imposed by that act. More than this, the present tariff act, with the other sources of government revenue, does not furnish income enough to pay the authorized expenditures. By July 1 next the excess of expenditures over receipts for the current fiscal year will equal $100,000,000.

"The successful party in the late election is pledged to a revision of the tariff. The country, and the business community especially, expect it. The prospect of a change in the rates of import duties always causes a suspension or halt in business because of the uncertainty as to the changes to be made and their effect. It is, therefore, of the highest importance that the new bill should be agreed upon and passed with as much speed as possible, consistent with its due and thorough consideration. For these reasons I have deemed the present to be an extraordinary occasion, within the meaning of the constitution, justifying and requiring the calling of an extra session.

"In my inaugural address, I stated in a summary way the principles upon which, in my judgment, the revision of the tariff should proceed, and indicated at least one new source of revenue that might be properly resorted to in order to avoid a future deficit. It is not necessary for me to repeat what I then said.

"I venture to suggest that the vital business interests of the country require that the attention of the congress in this session be chiefly devoted to the consideration of the new tariff bill, and that the less time given to other subjects of legislation in this session, the better for the country."

Cannon Appoints Committees.

In the house Speaker Cannon appointed the following committees:

Rules—The speaker, Dalzell (Pa.), Smith (Ia.), Clark (Mo.), Fitzgerald (N. Y.).

Ways and Means—Payne (N. Y.), Dalzell (Pa.), McCall (Mass.), Hill (Conn.), Boutell (Ill.), Needham (Cal.), Calderhead (Kan.), Fordney (Mich.), Gaines (W. Va.), Cushman (Wash.), Longworth (Ohio), Crumpacker (Ind.), Clark (Mo.), Harrison (N. Y.), Broussard (Lafl), Underwood (Ala.), Griggs (Ga.), Pou (N. C.), Randell (Tex.).

Mr. Fitzgerald, Democrat, who is added to the rules committee, is the author of the amendment to the rules which was adopted.

Hisses from the Democratic side greeted the announcements, which the speaker each time squelched by sharply bringing down his gavel and admonishing the galleries that they must observe the proprieties. This novel way of rebuking the members who had engaged in the hissing brought from that side of the house only groans and guffaws.

THE ANNUAL BANQUET

Tendered to the Academy Foot-Ball Team by Prof. Hughes.

One of the pleasantest events of the school year at the Bellefonte Academy is the annual banquet to the foot ball team. This year's banquet was held at the Brockerhoff House Friday evening and was tendered by Prof. James R. Hughes. This year the Basket ball team and the minstrel end men were invited guests. Prof. S. E. Hall, Jas. P. Hughes, coach Charles E. Hall and Prof. Arthur H. Sloop represented the faculty. The special guests of honor were Dr. E. E. Sparks, Col. Hugh S. Taylor, representing the community; John Blanchard and George R. Meek, representing the trustees. Covers were laid for a few other invited guests who were unavoidably absent.

There were fifty guests with beautifully decorated tables formed the shape of a "T". In spite of the fact that a fire had taken place in the dinning room destroying the bunting, new bunting had been secured to take its place, showing that you can't down the Academy. The walls were tastefully decorated in the symbolic colors gold and white and the tables and ceiling in gold and blue the athletic colors. The music for the occasion was furnished by Christy Smith's orchestra and they never played finer.

The toasts, from start to finish were excellent and interpersed with them were the singing of some of the minstrel songs. The principal speaker was Dr. Sparks, who seemed to be in a particularly happy mood. He seemed to get in touch with the students and expressed a warm feeling for the institution. He is an eloquent speaker and made a fine impression. His subject was "The Athletic Problem."

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the testimony of Mr. John South and Mr. W. D. Crooks, both seniors in the institution to the effect that the student body were amply satisfied with the conditions as they exist today in the Academy, bearing upon the four-fold development of the student, namely the physical, social mental and moral and that they would regard it a most regrettable incident indeed if Rev. James P. Hughes and his son, Mr. James, were allowed to sever their relations with the Academy at this time, after the untiring and successful efforts they have put forth to bring the school to the high position it now holds among the secondary schools of the country.

Mr. South is completing his third year in the Academy while Mr. Crooks is rounding out his second year. Both of these young men are thoroughly representative of the student body having been leaders in every phase of the school life. They delivered their toasts in a very interesting and forceful manner. John Blanchard, who is a direct decendent of the founders of the Academy and one of the trustees paid a very fitting tribute to the work of Rev. James P. Hughes and his son James R. Hughes.

Other toasts were responded to in a pleasing manner by Wayne Smith, captain foot ball team, Paul M. McCandless, Chas. E. Hall, Prof. A. H. Sloop, Edmund Joseph, Prof. Sherwood E. Hall, Col. H. S. Taylor, George R. Meek, and Rev. James P. Hughes.

The menu provided by Mine Host Ray was as usual fine and everyone enjoyed it immensely. Taken altogether it was one of the most successful banquets ever held by the Academy.

CUBA FACES AN UPRISING

Rising Believed to Be Result of Widespread Conspiracy.

TROOPS ARE IN PURSUIT

Efforts Will Be Made to Surround the Fugitives, and Orders Were Issued Not to Take Prisoners If Resistance Is Offered—Several Arrests Made.

Havana, March 17.—The first armed uprising against the new Cuban republic occurred Monday night, within a little more than six weeks after the inauguration of General Gomez as president. How serious the movement is it is impossible to determine at present, all that is known being that a sergeant of the rural guard, stationed at the town of Vuelta, in Santa Clara province, with a party of seven men, some other members of the rural guard and a number of peasants took to the woods, and that the troops are in active pursuit.

While the movement apparently is unimportant numerically, all indications point to the fact that it is part of a widespread conspiracy, the nature of which is indicated by a dispatch received here, which stated that a special train carrying a detachment of the rural guard, under command of Major General Monteagudo, was proceeding as quickly as possible for Vueltas.

President Gomez declared his intention of instantly suppressing the rising and making an example of all concerned. He ordered the rapid concentration of troops in the vicinity of Vueltas for the purpose of surrounding the fugitives. Orders were issued to the troops to take no prisoners if they encountered resistance, and not to cease the pursuit until all had been killed or captured.

Later it was learned that a conspiracy had been unearthed in which the rural guard was implicated. At Placetas a former captain of the rural guard, Lavastida by name, and at Vueltas Corporal Richardo and two civilians were arrested on the charge of complicity in the insurrectionary movement. All the participants in the rising are reported to be Liberals of the Miguelista faction, among whom it is known there has recently been widespread dissatisfaction over the distribution of offices.

The dispatch of troops from Havana under command of a major general to a point twelve hours distant from the capital is taken as an indication that the situation possibly is more serious than the government is willing to admit.

TWO NEW GOWNS

One With 500 Buttons on It and Other With Waist Line Near Knees.

New York, March 17.—There were only two really new things shown at the first session of the Dressmakers' Protective association. One was the "style clerical," a summer costume made to look as much like the French priest's robe as possible, with 500 buttons on it.

The other novelty was the "Moyen age" gown, which was first heard from at a western dressmakers' convention a short time ago. Several specimens of this, which is to be the "really proper thing this summer," were shown. The exhibitors explained that the waist line in this model is "six inches above the knee, requiring corsets five inches longer than last year." Features of the "Moyen age" are a separate hanging "pocket for pennies," suspended at one side, and a gigantic buckle of red and gold, worn at the breast.

The association's president told her auditors that the favorite color for street wear next season is called "tea green."

Mrs. Teal Goes to Jail.

New York, March 17.—Mrs. Margaret Teal, wife of Ben Teal, the stage manager, was taken to the penitentiary on Blackwell's island, to begin serving the sentence of one year imposed upon her following her conviction of attempted subornation of perjury in the Frank J. Diehl—Faxon.

Several weeks ago Miss Bernice Faxon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faxon, of Rebersburg, but formerly of this place, went to Vintondale, Cambria county, to visit her sister, Mrs. John Victor Royer and family. About a week later, or on Saturday, February 27th, Thurston Diehl, of Rebersburg, also took a trip to Vintondale. The two remained there until Tuesday of last week when they journeyed to Cumberland, Md., on a trip to the matrimonial alter. On account of the youth of the pair they experienced considerable difficulty in securing a license and it was not until the next day that they secured the proper instrument and had the ceremony performed. On Thursday they returned as far as Julian where they spent two days at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Diehl's sister, Mrs. Edward Bullock and on Saturday Mrs. Diehl went back to Cambria county while Mr. Diehl went home and broke the news of their marriage to the old folks.

Deceased was only twenty years old and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seneer, of Munson. She was married to Mr. Woods a little over two years ago and in addition to her husband one child, her parents, one sister and two brothers survive.

First Team Wins.

In an exciting game of basket ball on Monday night the first team beat the fourth team of the Y. M. C. A. league by the score of 40-37. The game was closely fought throughout and was tied at 37 each with 15 seconds to play, in which the first team shot a basket and foul. These games are proving very interesting and will prove more so when more are played.

BRUTAL WIFE BEATER KILLED

Shot in Scuffle For Pistol With John Armstrong Chaloner.

THE LATTER EXONERATED

Frenzied Man Seized Pistol and Tried to Turn It on His Wife, When Chaloner Grabbed It, and In the Scuffle It Was Dicharged, the Bullet Entering Gillard's Head.

Charlottesville, Va., March 17.—John Armstrong Chaloner, former husband of Amelia Rives, the authoress, engaged in a scuffle for possession of his revolver with John Gillard, an Englishman, at his country home, "Merry Mills," at Cobham, Va., during which the revolver was discharged and Gillard was killed. Chaloner was fully exonerated of all blame by a coroner's jury which investigated the case.

Gillard came to Virginia about two years ago from Australia, and was living within three miles of "Merry Mills." His wife sought Chaloner's protection from her husband who, it is alleged, had beaten her and had threatened her life.

Mrs. Gillard had arrived at "Merry Mills" in advance of her husband, and with her children was waiting in the diningroom to tell her story, when her husband entered and assaulted her, it is alleged, with a pair of heavy tongs. At this point Chaloner and Erle G. Money, who was with him, entered the room and interfered. A scuffle between Chaloner and the Englishman ensued, and the former drew his pistol to restrain the frenzied man. Gillard seized the pistol, it is said, and tried to turn it on his wife. Chaloner grabbed it and in the scuffle the pistol was discharged, the bullet entering Gillard's temple. A magistrate was at once summoned and made acquainted with the facts. He held an inquest, at which the widow told the story of her husband's alleged brutal treatment.

She said she was positive that her husband discharged the pistol in an effort to kill her, and others testified to this fact. Her fourteen-year-old son, who was present at the tragedy, said that his father had fully intended to kill his mother, and that he would have succeeded but for Chaloner.

The tongs, bent from the blows, were bloody and contained clumps of hair. Mrs. Gillard showed evidences of her bad treatment. Her head was badly cut in many places and her clothes were torn.

Chaloner Was Declared Insane.

New York, March 17.—John Armstrong Chanler, as he was known before, was adjudged insane by the New York supreme court in 1897, and committed to the Bloomingdale asylum. He escaped from that institution in 1900 and went to Virginia. The supreme court the year before had reiterated its order declaring him insane and appointed a committee of his person and property, then stated to amount to more than $1,000,000.

WHEREAS, There have been various federal and legislative enactment of a nature to seriously interfere with the working out of the financial problems incident to the management, maintenance and extension of railroad lines; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Trade of Bellefonte, with the idea of permitting the re-establishment as quickly as possible of normal conditions where the trade and manufactures of the country are concerned, earnestly requests Congress and State Legislatures to refrain from further restrictive enactments referring to railroads, except such as are calculated by their scope to protect the public and insure beneficient control of public utilities.

Conference With Mine Workers Ends Without Result.

CALL FOR A CONVENTION

Mine Owners' Proposition Will Be Placed Before Workmen and Another Conference Will Be Held Before March 31—There Is Still Hope That Any Radical Action Will Be Avoided.

Philadelphia, March 13.—The conference between the sub-committees of the anthracite mine workers and operators to arrange a new agreement to go into effect at the expiration of the present working arrangement came to an end without result. While the prospects are not as bright as they were for a peaceful settlement, there is still hope that radical action by either side will be avoided. The executive boards issued a call for a convention of the miners of the three anthracite districts, to be held in one of the mining towns, for the purpose of considering plans for further action, and then will follow another conference with the operators before March 31. The counter proposition of the mining companies to renew the present agreement for another term of three years will be placed before the convention by the executive boards of the workmen. National President Lewis, of the union, said after the meeting that the suggestion for another conference came from the operators.

THOMAS L. LEWIS.

The Official Statement.

The following agreed joint statement was given out:

"The joint meeting of the mine workers' committee and the operators' committee came to an end without an agreement being reached.

"Mr. Lewis made another clear statement of the mine workers' position. He reviewed the various demands, giving special emphasis to the question of recognition. He maintained that he and his committee represented the organized mine workers, and that if not recognized as representatives of the organization they had no standing and could not venture to sign a contract which would bind anybody. He said that the committee was speaking strictly in the interest of the anthracite districts and were not attempting to subordinate the anthracite to the bituminous interests.

"The operators repeated their intention to deal with the committee as representatives of the anthracite mine workers and not as officers of the union. They renewed their offer to continue the present agreement for a term of three years, and this was their final proposition. Mr. Lewis requested that it be put in writing, and the operators answered that it could be considered as an exact duplicate of the one made in 1906. They called attention to the number of the page of the minutes of the meetings in 1906 upon which the proposition appeared.

"It was understood that another conference would be held after Mr. Lewis and his committee presented the operators' proposition to a convention of mine workers."

Operators' Proposition.

The proposition contained in the minutes of the 1906 meeting referred to in the statement is as follows:

"Our proposition is that the awards made by the anthracite coal strike commission and the principles upon which they were established by the commission, and the methods established for carrying out their findings and awards shall be continued for and during a further term of three years."

Mr. Lewis did most of the talking for the men, while all the operators on the committee, except President Baer, of the Reading company, took part in the general discussion. Mr. Baer was ill and left the conference before it adjourned. During the discussion, Mr. Lewis says, several of the operators again referred to the statement that some of the coal companies had been considering the advisability of asking all of the companies to agree upon a 10 per cent reduction in wages, because of industrial conditions, instead of thinking about an increase. President Lewis further said that it was not made as a suggestion nor as a threat, but was mentioned, the operators told him, as showing how some of the coal companies felt in regard to present mining conditions. Mr. Lewis told them, he said, that the mine workers would not think of considering such a proposition if it were ever made.

There is a possibility of the men continuing to work without an agreement and striking at the various collieries as grievances come up if they are not adjusted by the superintendents of these mines. This, it is pointed out, would be a return to the chaotic conditions that prevailed prior to the strike of 1902, when there were strikes every day in all sections of the anthracite regions, making the amount of coal production from day to day uncertain.

SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Housekeeper Recognizes One of the Murderers of Polish Priest.

Newark, N. J., March 13. — William Olsefski, one of the men arrested here in connection with the murder of Rev. Twelve others, who have been arrested since the murder, were arraigned on charges of conspiracy and held under bail of $10,000 each. None of them were able to furnish bail.

Olsefski is not a Newark man. He came from southern Pennsylvania, the police say, a few hours before the time of the murder.

OIL TRUST WINS REBATE CASE

Court Orders Jury to Find Standard Not Guilty.

END OF THE BIG FINE SUIT

Judge Anderson Told Prosecutors Further Proof of Rebating Must Be Furnished or Case Would Fail—Declares He Followed Decisions of Circuit Court of Appeals.

Chicago, March 11.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana was found not guilty of accepting rebates from the Chicago & Alton railroad on shipments of oil from Whiting, Ind., to East St. Louis, Ill. The verdict was returned by a jury in the federal court on instructions of Judge A. G. Anderson, who averred that he followed the circuit court of appeals decisions as to the verdict returned at the former trial of the same case and on which verdict Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis assessed a fine of $29,240,000.

Judge Anderson's decision was not unexpected, as he had told the government prosecutors that the proof relied on in the first trial was incompetent and that it must be complemented or fail. It was with something of an air of hopefulness that District Attorney Edwin W. Sims and his assistants attempted to show the admissibility of the Illinois classification to prove the existence of a legal rate of 18 cents, which was a vital point in the government's contention.

It was after Assistant District Attorney James H. Wilkerson had argued for two hours and in the end admitted that the prosecution could not furnish the further proof deemed necessary by the court for a continuation of the case that Judge Anderson announced his decision.

Mr. Wilkerson said that the government could proceed no further and suggested dismissal of the case.

Attorney John S. Miller, chief counsel in the case for the oil company, immediately moved that there be an instructed verdict of not guilty. The court so ordered, and the jury, which had been excluded during the arguments by the attorneys, was called in and charged.

The decision of Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman, of the United States circuit court of appeals, reversing Judge Landis, together with the action of the United States supreme court in refusing to review the decision of the court of appeals, was assigned as authority for the decision of Judge Anderson.

STEAMSHIPS COLLIDE

One Goes Down and the Other Is Beached—No Lives Lost.

Chatham, Mass., March 11.—Blanketed by a dense fog and proceeding at half speed, the steamers Horatio Hall, of the Maine Steamship company, and the H. F. Dimock, of the Metropolitan line, met in the middle of the narrow channel known as Pollock Rip Slue, with a crash that sent the Hall to the bottom within half an hour and caused the Dimock to run ashore six hours later on Cape Cod beach, where the passeners and crew of the Hall were landed unharmed.

When the Hall was slowly sinking the wireless man on board her began sending out the familiar "C Q D" call, which was picked up by a number of government stations along the coast. The revenue cutter Gresham caught the sound and changed her course to go to the wrecked craft.

Ten Business Commandments.

We do not know the name of the good man with the Interstate Sand company of Cleveland, who wrote the following "Ten Commandments For the Business World," but we do know that he is a fellow who realizes that down to this minute there has arisen no one wise enough to improve the Golden Rule. He also knows that there is more in business building than there is in business getting, and that the old saying, "To the victor belongs the spoils," should give way before "To the worker belong the rewards."

There is much good stuff in these commandments and it does us much good to have the pleasure of passing it along. We hope it will do you good, also:

I

Thou shalt not wait for something to turn up, but shalt pull off thy coat and go to work that thou mayst prosper in thy affairs and make the word "failure" spell "success."

II

Thou shalt not be content to go about thy business looking like a bum, for thou shouldst know that thy personal appearance is better than a letter of recommendation.

III

Thou shalt not try to make excuses, nor shalt thou say to those who chide thee, "I didn't think."

IV.

Thou shalt not wait to be told what thou shalt do, nor in what manner thou shalt do it, for thus may thy days be long in the job which fortune hath given thee.

V.

Thou shalt not fail to maintain thine own integrity, nor shalt thou be guilty of anything that will lessen thy good respect for thyself.

VI

Thou shalt not covet the other fellow's job, nor his salary, nor the position which he hath gained by his own hard labor.

VII.

Thou shalt not fail to live within thy income, nor shalt thou contract any debts when thou canst not see thy way clear to pay them.

VII.

Thou shalt not fail to blow thine own horn, for he who is afraid to blow his own at the proper occasion findeth nobody standing ready to blow it for him.

IX

Thou shalt not hesitate to say "No" when thou meanest "No," nor shalt thou fail to remember that there are occasions when it is unsafe to bind thyself by hasty judgement.

X

Thou shalt give every man a square deal. This is the last and great commandment, and there is no other like unto it. Upon this commandment dependeth all the law and the profits of the business world.

Academy Met and Defeated.

Before a fair sized audience at the armory at Tyrone on Thursday evening the Bellefonte Academy basket ball team was defeated by the Big Five of Tyrone in the first of a series of three games to be played by these two teams. Last year the young students claimed the championship of central Pennsylvania and from their past record this year they are working hard to retain the same again. They put up a splendid contest on Thursday evening and at one time during the game they were only four points behind the locals, but their winning streak failed when McCandless, the main steam of the team was injured and had to retire. After that the Tyrone boys gained at least fifteen points over the visitors and at the end of the game the score stood 53 to 33. In the first half, Dickson threw four field goals, Bennett tossed in three, Crabtree landed two and Holmberg and Trego secured one apiece. In the half Trego threw four goals. In the second half, Bennett and Dickson threw the field goals for the locals, the former landing five while the latter secured three. Trego made good with seven foul goals in this half.

The Academy has a splendid team of players and they put up one of the cleanest games played here this season. They spoke in high terms of the treatment and claim they had a square deal all around. The second game will be played at Bellefonte, where they fully expect to win and the third will be played either at Johnstown or Huntingdon.

The line up was as follows:

Big Five		Bft. Academy
Dickson	forward	Wright
Bennett	"	Myers
Crabtree	centre	Sleppy
Trezo	guard	McCandless
Holmberg	"	Dillon

Substitutions, Hunter for Crabtree, Eisenbels for McCandless.

Field goals—Dickson 7, Bennett 10, Crabtree 2, Trego, Holmberg, Wright 8, Myers 3, McCandless, Dillon 2. Foul goals—Trego 11, McCandless 5. Fouls called on Big Five 11, Bellefonte 20.

Woman's Home Companion for March

The March Woman's Home Companion carries out the publishers' promise of a bigger and better magazine in 1909. It is a large, handsome issue, full of human interest, and attractive in every way.

A discussion of "What the Emmanul Movement Really Is" begins in this issue. The importance of the subject and the standing of the writers make this article one of particular interest. Walter Prichard Eaton contributes an article on the higher phase of acting, pointing out, with a sure hand, the greatest of our actresses and telling why they are so. Alexander Dana Noyes, Financial Editor of the New York Evening Post, has something very important to say about women's investments. There are a number of peculiar interest to women.

The March issue is a special spring fashion issue announcing the advanced spring styles. Princess gowns, small hats and dainty shoes seem to be the leading notes. A most interesting feature is a discussion of the colors and styles suitable to blondes and brunettes, tall women and short women, stout women and slim.

The stories are many and good. Irving Bacheller, Grace S. Richmond, Ada T. Drake, Mary Heaton Vorse, Florence Morse Kingsley and Holbert Footner contributing fiction of a very high order.

In addition to an exceptionally handsome cover design by C. Allan Gilbert there are one hundred and fifty illustrations in this number, several in color. John Cecil Clay, Alice Barber Stephens and James Montgomery Flagg are among the illustrators.

The Hard Coal Miners not going to strike.

A Shamokin special says it has been practically settled by members of the three anthracite district boards of the United Mine Workers of America that even though the operators decline to grant a single concession to the miners there will be no strike sanctioned by the district officers.

On the other hand, however, it is equally certain that the officials of the three districts will decline to renew the present wage agreement for another three years. If the operators at the conference to be held in Philadelphia next Tuesday refuse to grant concessions the agreement will be allowed to expire on March 31, and the miners will remain at work, subject to further negotiations between the operators and the union.

An important conference between President T. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, Secretary George Hartlieu, of the Ninth District Board, and all the representatives of the hard coal districts will be held in Philadelphia tonight.

The conference is regarded by labor leaders as of extreme importance, preceding, as it does, the meeting of the anthracite operators representatives of the anthracite mine workers, which will be held to-morrow morning in the Reading Terminal, when the wage scale will be under consideration.

CONGRESS MEETS TO TALK TARIFF

Extra Session Begun Today in Both Houses.

BILL READY FOR COMMITTEE

Latter Body, Having Held Hearings on Measures, Will Not Retain It Long. Speaker Cannon Re-elected — He Shares Honors of the Day With Representative Payne, Father of the New Revenue Act.

Washington, March 15.—The coming together of the hands in the big clock in the hall of representatives at noon today and the fall of the speaker's gavel from the hand of Clerk McDowell marked the opening of the representatives' part of the extra session of the Sixty-first congress, called by proclamation of President Taft.

Today's proceedings in the house consisted mainly of organization. The senate is a continuous body and never dies, but when the house adjourned before the inauguration it passed out of existence. It was necessary, therefore, to attend today to such details as the swearing in of the members, the election of a speaker and other officials, the assignments of members to committees and the drawing for seats.

Although the president's proclamation, issued on March 6, did not state the reason for the extra session, his message, prepared for transmission to the two houses at the beginning of the session, calls upon them to deliberate over the advisability of preparing and passing a new tariff law for the United tates. In many previous utterances—notably in his inaugural address—President Taft has made known his conviction that the Republican members controlling the two houses should carry out the provision of the Chicago platform pledging the party to a tariff law affording protection to the industries of the nation "equal to the difference between the cost of production abroad and the cost of production here." For months the ways and means committee of the old house, most of whose members were re-elected, were busy with the preparation of a bill declared to embody that idea.

Speaker Cannon Re-elected.

Probably first in interest and importance among the events of today in the two houses was the re-election of Speaker Cannon. The old Republican "war horse" has been too strong for the house "insurgents," and his face wore a smile of triumph as he ascended the rostrum after the announcement by the clerk of the vote re-electing him and thanked the members for the honor. In accordance with ancient custom, the oath of office was administered to the speaker by the "father of the house." That honor now belongs to General H. H. Bingham, who today began his thirtieth year of continuous service in the house.

Speaker Cannon had to share the honor of the most conspicuous place in the attention of the crowded galleries today with Representative Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the committee on ways and means. Mr. Payne is the "father" of the new tariff bill, and its unofficial title is "the Payne bill."

After the organization of the house and the adoption of the rules, the house program included the offering by Mr. Payne of the new bill, the fruit of long hours of work by him and his confreres on the committee. The bill goes for consideration to the new committee on ways and means, from whose hands it will soon emerge with the committee's "O. K." attached. The long hearings, during which such prominent men as Andrew Carnegie, Elbert H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab and others appeared before the committee, convinced that body that the country would welcome a speedy report on the bill, and the measure will therefore not be allowed to linger in the committee room.

The Committee Hearings.

The committee hearings on the proposed new bill, which is now ready for the consideration of congress, filled six weeks and were, according to Bourke Cockran, one of the Democratic members of the committee, "the most extensive and the fairest that were ever held for the purpose of revising the tariff." More than 300 men interested in the revision of the tariff appeared before the committee. They embraced importers and exporters, manufacturers, farmers and others. Included in their interests were an exceedingly wide variety of businesses. Government experts and other statisticians were also called upon to furnish information to the committee. Probably the most interesting witness was Mr. Carnegie, who had declared in a magazine article his belief that the iron and steel industry of America no longer needed protection. Judge Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, declared that the independent manufacturers needed high duties to protect them against monopoly of the trade. Among the other trades represented at the hearings were the lumber, wool, paper, sugar and fruit industries. In practically every case arguments for and against the continuance of high protective duties were advanced, placing on the members of the committee the burden of decision. The result of their deliberations has been guarded with great care. Despite forecasts of the contents of the bill alleged to be authoritative, few besides its authors know which schedules are to remain unchanged, which are to be advanced and which are to be lowered.

Senate Also In session.

The senate also convened today, but for some time its sessions will not be as important as those of the house. According to the constitution, the tariff bill which is the end and aim of the extra session must originate in the house and be passed by that body before it goes to the senate for approval. After it reaches the senate what that august body does to it in committee and in open session becomes of importance and interest.

The senate has been in continuous session since March 4. After the formal reading today of the president's proclamation calling the two houses together a committee was appointed by Vice President Sherman to wait on the president and inform him that the senate was ready to receive any communication he might be pleased to send. A recess was declared until the president's message should come.

FORCED ACID DOWN HER BABY'S THROAT

Negress Kills Child to Escape Caring For It.

Washington, March 15.—Mary Shinault, a negress, seventeen years old, killed her baby, forty-one days old, in the Columbia hospital by forcing carbolic acid down the infant's throat. The girl was locked up.

Apparently not realizing what she had done, the Shinault girl told the police that she did not want to bring up the child and take care of it, and rather than take the baby away from the hospital she had decided she would kill it.

Going back to her bed where she had left her baby asleep she grabbed the child up in her arms and forcing open its mouth began pouring the poison down the infant's throat. One of the nurses had heard the girl get up, and thinking that she might need some attention went to the ward. She was just in time to see the mother pour the last of the contents of the bottle down the child's throat.

The house physician was summoned, but the baby lived less than five minutes. The acid had acted quickly and death had almost been instantaneous.

The girl told the police she was not married and had killed the child because she wanted to get rid of it.

INSURGENTS STILL HOLD OUT

Fight Against Adoption of House Rules Grows Warm.

COMPROMISE TURNED DOWN

Opponents of Cannon Will Not Accept Proposition to Name Committee to Investigate the Rules and Report on Proposed Changes.

Washington, March 13.—Three important developments occurred in the insurrection against the adoption in the house of the rules of the Sixtieth congress to govern the incoming congress.

A compromise, fathered by Senator Cummins, of Iowa, and presented to the regulars by President Taft, failed to unite the Republican members. What was pronounced as a satisfactory working agreement was entered into by the Republican "insurgents" and the Democrats. The name of Theodore Roosevelt was introduced as an "insurgent sympathizer.

The compromise was one that the "insurgents" have had under consideration ever since the report became current that President Taft desired a postponement of a fight on the rules lest it might delay the passage of a tariff bill. It provided for the re-election of Speaker Cannon and the adoption of the rules of the Sixtieth congress for the special session. After the organization of the house on Monday it was provided that a resolution should be passed authorizing a committee to investigate the rules and report on proposed changes at the regular session in December. It was proposed that the "insurgents" should be allowed to name four of their number for the committee, the Democrats six and the regulars five. The latter five and the regulars five.

Expect Taft to End Trouble.

For the regulars, former Representative Watson, of Indiana, replied that the compromise was acceptable, if amended so as to allow the speaker to appoint the committee, due regard being given to the "insurgents" in its composition. The leaders of the "insurgents" subsequently declared that they would accept no such suggestion. It is believed that President Taft will exert his influence to bring the two branches of the party together.

For more than two hours the steering committee of the "insurgents" were in conference with a committee representing the Democrats. Representatives Gardner, Madison, Nelson, Hubbard and Hinshaw were present for the "insurgents," and Minority Leader Clark and Representatives Underwood, of Alabama, for the Democrats.

The "insurgents," it is said, convinced the Democrats that they could deliver thirty votes for any proposition they desired to propose on Monday. The Democrats promised to furnish 170 votes against the previous question motion on the adoption of the old rules. This is the full Democratic strength, less two, there being one vacancy on account of death and one member being seriously ill. As 195 will be a majority, the allied forces claimed the victory.

HE DIDN'T SEE IT WORK

Jerseyman's Picture Machine Turns Out to Be a Sausage Grinder.

Bridgeton, N. J., March 12. — John Pokonjip, residing on Cohansey street, had an idea that he would like to go into the moving picture business. With the intention of setting up a modest establishment he therefore went to Philadelphia and brought back his machine.

But John forgot to ask the man from whom he purchased his "grinder" to show him how it worked. He supposed it would grind out pictures much as a hand organ grinds out music. He was not pleased, therefore, when his friends told him it was designed to grind sausages.

John now mourns the wickedness of the world and the loss of sixty good dollars which he paid for the grinder.

TWO DIE FROM POISON

Workmen Ate Lunch, Started For Walk and Did Not Return.

New York, March 12.—The bodies of two men, who appeared to have died from poisoning, were found in a clump of woods near Northfield, Staten Island. The men, one of whom has been identified as Paul Berlius, of Brooklyn, had been working together in the vicinity. After eating their luncheon they started out for a walk and did not return.

When the bodies were found the theory was advanced that some one had put poison in the food which the two ate at the noon hour, and the police were asked to investigate.

APPEARS IN CHURCH DISGUISED AS DEVIL

Worshipper Was Praying For Protection From Satan.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 12.—The authorities are looking for a man who tried to break up a prayer meeting in the Methodist church at Wiccopee, a hamlet, by appearing before the meeting disguised as the devil.

There were seventeen persons at prayer, and a worshipper was asking that the congregation be protected from the intrigues of satan, when footsteps were heard in the vestibule.

Then the door opened and the vision stopped, thumping on the floor with a pitchfork. The intruder wore a black mask, a pair of horns, a long black cape, from beneath which the end of a long tail was visible.

A man arose from his knees to grapple with the stranger, but "satan" fled into a snowstorm. There is complete mystery as to the identity of the masked visitor.

The warrants charge R. H. Kain, H. D. Prettyman and William H. Rocap with conspiracy, breach of the peace and with aiding and abetting a prizefight.

THE OUT LOOK FOR CUBA

No one who is familiar with the situation sees any optimistic rainbows on the Cuban horizon. The Gomez administration has already committed several grave blunders, and there are predictions that the American army of occupation, reviewed by President Taft on the day he was inaugurated, will have to return ere long to restore peace once again to the Pearl of the Antilles. President Gomez is hardly to be complimented upon his sagacity in the allotment of diplomatic plumbs. He sent Don Carlos Garcia to Washington—one of the most rabid opponents of the American regime of pacification. The state department has made no objection, probably actuated by a desire to throw no stone in the path of the young republic. That Spain, whither Gonzales De Quesada has been dispatched, will prove equally conciliatory, forgetting that Senor Quesade was largely responsible for stirring up the people of the United States to intervention, seems extremely doubtful. The saddest blunder of all is the liberation of 300 prisoners, confined in various parts of the island, under a general amnesty. They are reassuringly described as jailbirds of every degree, from ordinary thieves to red-handed murderers." The result will probably be just about three shades worse than the disbanding of an army. In default of a better or easier job, this gentry will betake themselves to the mountains and follow the ancient and honorable trade of insurgents, which requires only a machete and fleetness of foot.

Should trouble arise that would again force the United States to intervene, the army of pacification might find some real fighting and then a permanent contract. Although the Teller resolution pledges the United States against annexation, fresh disorders could easily provoke its repeal. The necessity of watching a cake all the time is apt to intensify the temptation to eat it. And Uncle Sam is not avid for any more Spanish-American dishes just at present. They are too pungent and peppery for the Anglo-Saxon palate—an appetizer in small doses, but hard on the digestion as a steady diet.

THE LUCK OF SURGERY.

Down in Harrisburg the other day a young girl was taken to a hospital suffering with acute tonsilitis. By some queer freak of chance she got mixed in the assignment of patients to different wards, and was left in the appendicitis operating ward. The surgeons whose duty it is to operate on appendicitis cases went promptly to work and performed the duty that seemed to be cut out for them. On the heels of their completed task, which was eminently satisfactory and successful, an excited nurse rushed into the ward looking for her tonsilitis patient, and to her consternation found her just emerging from the influence of the ether, administered for a major operation. The operating surgeons were hurriedly summoned and told of their error. Here's where the luck comes in. The girl actually had appendicitis in an advanced form and without an operation would likely have died. Can you beat it?

There is a great deal of prejudice against surgery; some of it is well founded, but much of it utterly unreasonable, and yet here is one instance in which surgery in error turns out to be a beneficial and providential act, saving life and preventing suffering without intelligent direction. According to this singular and accidental use of the knife, the enemies of surgery are way off. The thing to do is to consign all patients to the appendicitis ward.

WIFE DESERTERS.

When the wolf comes to the door—that is the time to try men's souls. Also, it seems it is a time to try their manhood and their sense of responsibility to those dependents for whose physical and moral well-being they virtually pledged themselves when the state gave them the privilege of mating in marriag. With the ceremony over the duty of the state and of society really ceases. Thenceforward it is "up to" the man to show that he is of the proper caliber to take on the duties and obligations of family life It is pleasant to reflect on the large percentage of men who measure up adequately to the task imposed theoretically at least, by the state. It is disheartening, on the other hand, to learn that many are willing to flee away from and disavow these obligations at the first signs of trouble and misfortune—the very time when the wife and mother is in greatest need of a protecting hand—a hand more masterful and one intended by nature (and the state) to cope with the world's rebuffs.

"Thousands of men," says an Albany dispatch, "are deserting their wives and children in New York because they cannot find work." A melancholy state of affirs, to be sure! Did not these men remember to vow to "cherish and protect! Did they make sacrifices that their wives and children might escape starvation? Doubtless a number of them fled with little or no thought of those for whose protection they pledged themselves at the marriage altar.

He is a miserable coward who deserts his wife and his children at any time How much more of a craven is the wretch who sneaks away in time of adversity, leaving the struggle of life for mother and children to the weak hands of a woman?

A NEW ST. PATRICK.

That celebration so dear to the heart of every Irishman, St Patrick's day, will this year be observwith special fervor in Chicago, where it is announced invitations will be sent to organizations of Orangemen to participate and fraternize. This feature of the St. Patrick's day celebration was introduced last year by some of the Irish societies and indicates a wonderful broadening of the feeling among the once embittered Hibernians. If an old Irish leader of 50 years ago, asleep in his grave, could hear that Hibernians and Orangemen were fraternizing on St. Patrick's day, there would be a great rattling of dry bones. But the new spirit of fraternity is proof of a more intelligent generation of Irishmen on American soil, who in liberties and privileges of American citizenship can well afford to forget the old battle of the Boyne, without either side sacrificing opinions and memories that are dear to both.

The movement for fraternity is not extensive or urgent, but was experimental within Chicago last year and will be tried again this week. One can easily understand how such a proposition would require the most delicate and diplomatic handing in order to secure the favor of each side, and even then it would require vast discretion to make it effectively peaceful and successful.

GOVERNOR Stuart is opposed to increased salaries, having vetoed the bill adding $1,000 to the pay of Philadelphia magistrates. In his message the Governor says: "This bill is one of other similar bills introduced at the present session of the Legislature for increasing the salaries of public officers. The salaries of public officers should not be increased, nor should the number of public offices be increased, unless where the proper administration and dispatch of the public business require it. I am opposed to signing bills creating new offices or increasing the salaries of public officers, especially where such legislation places additional fixed charges upon municipalities, unless in my judgement such additional expenditure is necessary for the proper transaction of the public business.'

Drank Twenty one Glasses of Whiskey

Walter Walcott, a young negro who claims Richmond, Va., as his home is in a dying condition at the Altoona hospital as the result of trying to quench a seemingly unsatisfied thirst for whiskey says Friday's Altoona Tribune In a few hours the man is said to have drunk twenty-one glasses of the liquor at a Tenth avenue hotel, later staggered into Parrish's pool room on the same avenue above Thirteenth street and fell over on the floor in an unconscious state. He was later taken in charge by the police and sent to the hospital.

Walcott has been in the city for the past several months, coming here to work with the street pavers last summer. The money he made ran out a couple of weeks ago and having no place to sleep he was accommodated at the city prison. He was there Wednesday night and before he left Thursday morning he partook of one of the prison breakfasts, a couple of rolls and some other stuff. He left the police station and a short time later ran into a couple of white men at one of thehotels. There is said to have been a wager and to win it, Wolcott drank twenty-one glasses of whiskey. He staggered out of the place, entered the Parrish pool room went to a back room and fell over on the floor. He was found a short time later and Thursday noon was taken in charge by Patrolman Haines and removed to the police station. He was still in an unconscious condition and when Police Surgeon Tate visited him he advised his removal to the hospital. At the institution an examination showed that the whiskey he had imbibed had caused a convulsion through suffering with diebetes. His condition last night was pronounced as very serious with little chances for his recovery.

Wolcott according to his own statements to the police authorities is aged 24 years, lived at Richmond, Va., and came to Altoona last summer to work for Hageman, Miller & Hageman, the street paying contractors.

ACounterfeit Gang at Work in Williamsport.

A large number of counterfeit half dollars have recently made their appearance in Williamsport, leading to the conclusion that agents of a counterfeiting gang are or have been working in that city. Thus far no clue to the person or persons handling the bad coin has been discovered. The coins have appeared in various parts of the city and have evidently been well circulated.

At the recent session of United States court in that city secret service men were here and made strenuous efforts to secure a confession from an Italian who was accused of passing counterfeit coins in Potter county. He was believed to know the headquarters of the gang from which the money was secured, but despite the severe sweating process through which secret service men put him he refused to give any information, intimating that his life was certain to pay the penalty of any disclosure that would lead to the arrest of the counterfeiters. The officers had learned, however, that the counterfeiting gang was located somewhere in the vicinity of Buffalo, N. Y., and from that point agents were sent into Pennsylvania to get rid of the bad money. One of the men suspected as being an agent of the gang was in Williamsport during the trial of the case in United States court and was kept under surveillance, but no evidence that would warrant his arrest could be secured.

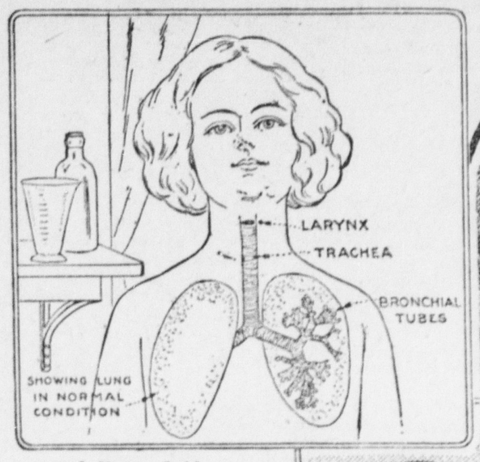
Settled Colds Are Always Dangerous.

CONSUMPTION BEGINS WITH A COLD



A Heavy Cold.

Samuel McKinley, 1309 Askew Ave., Kansas City, Mo., member of the Society of the United States Jewelry Auctioneers, writes:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me.

"Traveling from town to town, throughout the country, and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December, when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs.

"When almost too late, I began doctoring, but without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me, so I cannot praise it too highly."

Nasal Catarrh, Coughs.

Mr. Emil Pickart, 310 Indiana Ave., Hammond, Ill., writes:

"I am entirely cured of catarrh of the nose, and my stomach is in good condition also. I only used about five bottles of your great medicine, although I had catarrh so bad and for so many years that I thought I wouldn't live much longer. I had to consult doctors right along. Now all my friends say I never looked as well as I do now.

"I can also say that it is a great remedy for coughs, because I give it to my children. I never will be without it. I used enough other medicine to know how valuable Peruna is.

"You are at liberty to use my name in spreading the merits of Peruna."

Settled on Lungs.

Mr. Charles A. Schafer, Nebraska City, Neb., Ex-President Local Brotherhood of Bookbinders, writes:

"I am pleased to give my experience with Peruna.

"Some years ago I contracted a heavy cold which settled in my body and finally resulted in catarrhal trouble of the lungs and stomach.

"I tried many remedies, but found nothing effective until I tried Peruna. In a very few days I was feeling much better, and as the result was so promising I was glad to keep on using it. In about a month the soreness had entirely left my joints, I felt much better, and the catarrh was being carried out of my system.

"I used Peruna for about two months before I was able to say that I was entirely well, but I have never regretted the money which I expended for it, for it has put me in perfect health."

Catarrh for Five Years.

Mr. S. S. Johnson, Greenville, Ill., writes:

"I was for five years troubled with catarrh. Two years ago I had one foot in the grave. I had tried seven doctors and also went to a catarrh specialist in St. Louis, and took several kinds of medicine a day. I could not walk more than a hundred yards without resting.

"My friends told me to take Peruna, and I did so. I now feel that Peruna has saved my life. It is the best medicine on earth, and I would not be without it."

Epilepsy, Fits

Convulsions, or Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance are Nervous Diseases. Most cases can be cured by strengthening and building up the nervous system. To do this a nerve medicine is needed. Dr. Miles' Nervine will be found efficacious and satisfactory. It has cured many cases of these diseases and we believe it will cure you. We can give you names of many who have been cured through its use. Write for advice.

"My son John had epilepsy for years, and after having him treated by specialists for over 2 years he still continued to have spells. I had almost given up in despair, but knowing the virtue of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick headache, I concluded to try the Nervine. During June, 1906, I gave him a teaspoonful three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, and he has not had a spell since August 28, 1906, and has taken no medicine since Jan.-07. I am writing the case just as it is hoping it will induce others to try it."

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Monument to be Unveiled May Twenty-ninth

The handsome granite shaft erected several months ago to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of Clinton county will be unveiled and formerlly dedicated on Saturday, May 29, the date having been definitly fixed by John S. Bittner Post, G. A. R., at their meeting held Monday evening.

The change of date from May 31, when the annual Memorial Day exercises will be observed on account of the 30th falling on Sunday, to the 29th is made because many of the veterans wish to be present at the dedication would also naturally wish to attend the Memorial exercises in their own districts and the change of date will make it possible to be at both functions,

An excellent program is in course of preparation for the occasion, which promises to be an impressive and memorable one. The details have been placed in the hands of a committee consisting of David Salmon, J. B. Lesher, this city, and L. C. Furst, Cedar Springs, who worked so faithfully to secure the funds for the erecting of the monument.—Clinton County Times.

There was a place called Rock Run
Is controlled by the moon and the sun.
When the sun goes down
It's a dim old town
That place called Rock Run.

The houses are few
For the people never knew
There was such a place begun,
Whether going east or west,
Do not stop to rest
For there's but one chair in Rock Run.

Now excuse me for mistakes
I have made
For you can neither buy
Tobacco or lemonade
In Rock Run.

An Absurd Statement.

In a statement recently made by the Centre Democrat, of Bellefonte, the home of Company B, in regards to the recent trouble in which the Pennsylvania troops were supposed to have been connected while in Washington it says: "When the police reserves were summoned to the scene, the soldiers made a hurried run to their train which was standing two blocks away, piled into the cars, gave the engineer orders to pull out, and escaped cheerfully from the city." What an absurd statement to print. The very idea of a bunch of soldiers giving an engineer orders and this engineer obeyed, according to the paper's statement, and "pulled out."

The engineer might have gotten out of his engine, but we will bet dollars to doughnuts that his train did not leave the station until properly ordered. It says their train was standing several blocks away and that after the soldiers committed their depredation they ran and got on the train. No one can get on a train in Washington unless he first pass through the large iron gates which are opened when the trais is made up and ready to leave for its destination.—Tyrone Herald.

—The best soil corrector you can get for your crops is H-O lime manufactured by the American Lime and Stone Company, of Tyrone, Pa.; the advantage of it is that you can drill it and do not have to wait for it to slake. You can store it in your barn and have it on hand just when you need it. For prices &c., write the American Lime & Stone Company, Tyrone, Pa.

Tanners Unite To Fight For Free Hides

Tanners, shoe dealers and harness men of Pittsburg have taken steps toward the organization of a Free Hide league, members of which will appear before the ways and means committee of the national house of representatives to fight for the removal of tariff duties from hides.

"Cheaper shoes." is one of the slogans of battle.

And, strange as it may seem, "Better prices for the farmers," is another.

J. Dawson Callery, president of the Pittsburg Railways company, is one of the leaders in the movement, William Flaccus, head of the William Flaccus Oak Leather company; E. F. Flaccus and Charles F. Stifel are others. Mr. Callery represents the James Callery company, tanners.

Many of the tanners are obliged to buy hides from the packers, who are their competitors. The packers, they point out, get the hides at a very low figure, calling attention to the price of cattle, placed at 6 cents a pound live weight. A hide weighs in the neighbor hood of 60 pounds, standing the packers $3.60.

The packers sell the hides to their competitors in the tanning business at 15 cents a pound, or $9 a hide, making a profit of $5 40 on each. Here is where they say the farmers will be benefited by the no-tariff plan. It is asserted that the packers will have to pay more for cattle if the free hide arrangement goes through, because there will not be such a premium on hides.

In Nearby Counties.

A large number of counterfeit half dollars have recently been circulated in Williamsport.

The big mills of the Peters Paper company at Kingston, Westmoreland county, have resumed operations after an enforced shutdown of two weeks caused by a break in the engine.

A movement has been inaugurated in Renovo for the establishment of a hospital, which is needed because of the railroad shops and other industries giving employment to many men.

A meeting of citizens was held in Williamsport on Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a fair association with the view of establishing an annual county fair in that city.

Among the first bills to be introduced in the new city councils of Williamsport will be a curfew ordinance, which is being drafted by ex-Judge Mitchell, for the Parent-Teachers' association.

B. F. Shiebley, jeweler of Lewistown has purchased the livery stable owned by Clifford S. Thomas which he will enlarge and remodel, to make it a complete fire-proof garage and automobile repair shop and part of the structure will be occupied by W. Moller & Co. for the manufacture of the M. & S. controller and economizer, a device or attachment to automobile machinery which is meeting with a ready sale.

A Telegrapher Saves Family From Cremation

A frame farmhouse belonging to J. Frank Torbet, of Jersey Shore, and occupied by Ross Christian and family, located near the Torbet flag station on the Fall Brook line of the New York Central railroad, about two miles north of Jersey Shore, was totally destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning of this week. A defective flue is believed to have started the blaze. A telegraph operator by the name of Manus, who was on duty at the tower near by, discovered the fire and hurried to the house and aroused the sleeping occupants just in time, for they had difficulty in getting clothing enough to properly dress and make their escape from the upstairs. As the fire started in the attic they had time to remove a portion of the furniture from the first floor, but everything on the second floor was destroyed.

A small party of friends and relatives witnessed the wedding on Wednesday of George W. Fisher of Loveville, and Mrs. Belle G. Dunmire, of Stormstown. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's mother in the latter village, at six o'clock in the evening and was performed by Rev. A. L. Frank, of the Methodist church. Both parties are among the best known residents of Halfmoon township and have many friends who wish them all kinds of marital happiness and prosperity. They are now away on a wedding trip to eastern cities and after the first of April will be at home on bridegroom's farm near Loveville.

Lesson for Sunday, March 28th. 1909. Temperance Lesson. Prov. xxiii.29-35.

Natures Way is Best

The function-strengthening and tissue-building plan of treating chronic, lingering and obstinate cases of disease as pursued by Dr. Pierce, is following after Nature's plan of restoring health.

He uses natural remedies, that is extracts from native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skillfull combination in just the right proportions.

Used as ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and Stone root, specially exert their influence in cases of lung, bronchial and throat troubles, and this "Discovery" is, therefore, a sovereign remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic coughs, catarrh and kindred ailments.

The above native roots also have the strongest possible endorsement from the leading medical writers, of all the several schools of practice, for the cure not only of the disease named above but also for indigestion, torpor of liver, or biliousness, obstinate constipation, kidney and bladder troubles and catarrh, no matter where located.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

Just What You Have Been Wishing For

The greatest American play, by the greatest American playwright, is "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas. It has been novelized by the author himself, and the story is even better than the play. The Pittsburg Dispatch has secured from Harper Brothers of New York exclusive serial rights, and the tale will begin Sunday, March 21. It is a most fascinating story of hypnotism, telepathy, love, mystery and crime. Don't miss the start. "The Witching Hour," beginning Sunday, March 21, in The Pittsburg Dispatch.

WIRELESS ACROSS SEA

First Received by College Paper Is Published Today.

Princeton, N. J., March 13. — The Daily Princetonian, the students' paper of Princeton university, presents to the college today the first wireless message ever received by a college publication in this country from abroad. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, who is absent on leave from Princeton university and has been lecturing at the Sarbonne in Paris, sent the following message:

"Greetings to my Princeton friends.
(Signed) "Henry Van Dyke."

The message was relayed across the Atlantic by steamships and transmitted from a New York office to the students' wireless station here, where it was received accurately by Paul B. Findley, '09, of Pittsburg; W. Allan Butler, 3d, '09, of New York, and Laurence C. Stryker, '10, of New York, who built and set up their own apparatus in the School of Science building.

MUST LIVE UP TO PEACE TREATY

Drastic Steps May be Taken Against Nicaragua.

Washington, March 13.—Owing to the continued disturbed conditions in Nicaragua and President Zelaya's failure to make serious efforts looking to the settlement of the Emery claim, the state department, by withdrawing Mr. Gregory, the American charge at Managua, and ordering the legation placed in the hands of the consul, who will have no diplomatic capacity, practically broke off diplomatic relations with that country.

Affairs in Central America have been closely watched by the American and Mexican governments, both of which have now come to an understanding that the time has arrived when drastic measures should be enforced to insure peace in the Central American republics. The determination was reached that if the American warships now in Nicaraguan waters and to be sent there are not sufficient to impress President Zelaya that the treaty of peace entered into between the Central American republics is not to be lived up to more radical steps would be taken to accomplish that result. The impression was given that if need be intervention would be resorted to.

Gunboats Fight.

Mexico City, March 13.—A private dispatch received here absolutely confirms the reported naval engagement between the ships of Nicaragua and Salvador. Three Nicaraguan gunboats, led by the Momotombo, Tuesday attacked the Salvadorean gunboat Presidente. The latter by a lucky shot put the Momotombo out of action almost at the beginning of the engagement. The three Nicaraguans then withdrew.

A Significant Fact

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration? Is it not a significant fact too that

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the only medicine sold through druggists, for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills, the makers of which are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper? Is this not worthy of your consideration if you are a poor sick invalid woman?

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authorative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It's foolish—often dangerous to accept a substitute of unknown composition in place of this time-tried medicine of known composition. Don't do it. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Salmon Packers Must Use Proper Names

Washington, March 12.—As many packers put up "humpback" and "dog" salmon under fancy names and thus sell them to consumers, who believe them to be superior varieties, the department of agriculture ordered that these fish when canned should be labelled with their common names.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

The Record in Bellefonte is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Bellefonte citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says; I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right."

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

PAID HOMAGE TO ROOSEVELT

A Thousand Persons Greet Him at Oyster Bay Reception.

IT WAS A GALA EVENT

Fakirs From New York Sold Banners and Buttons and Added Much to the General Animation—Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Extended Farewell Greetings to All.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 13.—Ex-President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt were the guests of the town of Oyster Bay at a reception held here in their honor in the town hall.

For two hours ex-President and Mrs. Roosevelt stood behind the justice's railing in the town clerk's office and 1000 townspeople filed by, shaking hands and extending farewell greetings.

It was a great day for Oyster Bay. Many of the residents had not seen their distinguished first citizen since he relinquished his great office and returned here among them to become a "private citizen of the privatest kind."

An hour before the time set for the reception the doors of the town hall were besieged by an expectant crowd. Street venders of novelties had come early to town from New York with a large supply of Roosevelt banners and buttons left over from the 1904 campaign and 1905 inauguration, and they added much to the general animation. They had little trouble in disposing of their left-over wares.

Notwithstanding the announcement that the reception was to be given for Oyster Bay residents only, many persons from nearby towns, and others from some distance, came to the village to attend. These finally got admission to the hall and shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt. Among them were a number who had known Mr. Roosevelt for many years, and who felt that they were entitled to join his neighbors in a demonstration of friendship and goodwill.

For every one the ex-president had a hearty greeting, and with many he chatted pleasantly for a minute or more. Reminiscences were numerous between Mr. Roosevelt and the older men, who had known him since an early age. Almost every mother in the village brought her children, for they all know the former president is a great admirer of children. He was especially pleased to see them.

One young lady passing through the line wore a Teddy bear pinned on her coat. This Mrs. Roosevelt spied at once, and it brought forth a merry laugh and the remark: "All the Teddy bears are not dead yet, are they?"

When Mr. Roosevelt saw the young boys he was particularly pleased. Some told him they wished him success in shooting lions, and he responded that he knew he would be successful.

GANS DEFEATS WHITE

Former Champion Had an Easy Time With English Lightweight.

New York, March 13.—Joe Gans, former lightweight champion of the world, easily defeated Jabez White, the English lightweight champion, in a ten round bout at the National Athletic club. It was a tame exhibition, and the big crowd was disappointed, as the men were slow and lacked force behind many of their blows.

Gans was far from being the Gans of even two years ago, as he missed several blows, misjudged distance and failed to take advantage of many opportunities.

Guilty of Shooting Friend.

Laurens, S. C., March 13.—Guilty of manslaughter, with a recommendation to mercy, was the verdict returned in the case of Wade Cochran Pinson, who killed his friend, Thornwell Boyce. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Boyce had taken supper with Miss Evelyn Brown, with whom Pinson was infatuated. Later, when all three were driving in a buggy, with Boyce sitting on Pinson's lap, the shooting occurred.

Trolley Car Ran Into Landslide.

Easton, Pa., March 13.—A passenger car on the Philadelphia & Easton trolley line ran into a landslide at Rocky Falls, about ten miles below this city, and was wrecked. CLAY BURNS LIKE COAL

Discovery Causes Great Excitement at Sackett Lake, N. Y.

Monticello, N. Y., March 11.—There is great excitement among the farmers and property owners at Sackett Lake, near here, over a discovery of a clay that burns equally as well as coal and abounds in great quantities. This clay when dug up and allowed to dry out in the sun becomes porous and hard at flint. A lighted match will ignite the clay, and it burns until consumed. A specimtn of the clay has been sent to Cornell university to be analyzed.

M'KINLEY'S DOCTORS PAID WERE PAID $32,400

Expenditure Made by Nation in 1901 Made Public.

Washington, March 11.—With the return to private life of former President Roosevelt it has become possible to ascertain the details of the expenditures made in connection with the last illness and death of former President McKinley, which have been so carefully covered up for seven years that even the auditing officials of the government have known but approximately how the $45,000 appropriated by congress was expended. Not in the history of the federal government has there been such care taken to keep the exact disbursement from the public as in this instance.

The object of this great secrecy was to avoid a repetition of the extreme unpleasantness that followed the illness and death of President Garfield and to prevent a discussion of the character of the several claims.

The money finally paid by the treasury department was distributed as follows:

The balance was paid to undertakers, nurses, telegraph companies and for miscellaneous expenses.

HOW YOU CAN BE MODEST

Traveller Says Fewer Clothes Will Better Morals.

New York, March 11.—"If American women wore less clothes they would be more modest. The women of Africa wear very little raiment, and they are the most moral women in the world."

This is the contention of Arthur George Pomeroy Collen, son of the retired English officer, Lieutenant General Sir Edwin Collen, for forty years a resident of British East Africa. He arrived to deliver a series of lectures on "Darkest Africa" before the League for Political Education.

"Clothes make the savage woman shy and coquettish," Mr. Collen continued. "A white shirtwaist and a skirt, to which the missionary introduces them, seem to sew the first seeds of vanity. As soon as it is explained to them that they are without sufficient covering it has the most demoralizing effect upon them."

Shops on Part Time.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 11.—Notices were posted that the Ashley shops of the Central Railroad of New Jersey will for an indefinite period be operated only four days a week and eight rours a day, a total of thirty-two hours a week, or just a few hours better than half the regular working time.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S BUSY WEEK

Begins Today Final Preparations For African Trip.

MANY FAREWELLS TO BE SAID

Packing of Personal Outfits of Former President and Son and Arranging of Business Affairs, to Be Followed by a Family Reunion at Sagamore Hill. Kermit the Official Photographer.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 15.—Former President Roosevelt today entered upon the final week of preparation for the Roosevelt-Smithsonian African expedition. It will be a busy week, as considerable packing of the personal outfits of Mr. Roosevelt and his son Kermit remains to be done, and business affairs of the former president also will require some of his time. These latter matters will be set in order in anticipation of at least a two years' absence abroad. Farewells to numerous friends and relatives are to be said, and a visit to Hoboken is contemplated to inspect the party's quarters aboard the steamer and see that the outfit of the expedition is safely stowed away where it can be quickly reached and trans-shipped at Naples.

One day of the week will be devoted to a family reunion at Sagamore Hill. In addition to all this, Mr. Roosevelt will spend some time each day, as is his habit, in outdoor exercise, and he hopes also to have a chance early in the week to try out the rifles he will use during the hunt on the target range near his home. His duties as a magazine editor will take him to New York several times during the week, and there he will be busy dictating articles for publication. It is expected also that during the week the Smithsonian members of the expedition will come to Oyster Bay for a final conference with Mr. Roosevelt.

There will be numerous boxes and trunks to pack with articles comprising the personal effects of Mr. Roosevelt and Kermit. The rifles of Mr. Roosevelt and his son will receive more care than anything else in their equipment. These are enclosed in special cases made completely watertight. The photographic kit of the expedition, of which Kermit Roosevelt has charge, he being the official photographer, is a model of its kind. The young man is very proud of it and feels that the photographs he is to make are to be of as great importance as the specimens of animals his father will shoot for the national museum. These photograhhs will form a scientific collection of themselves.

During the latter part of this week Mr. Roosevelt's sons, Theodore, Jr., who is employed at Thompsonville, Conn.; Archibald, who is attending school at Groton, Mass., and Quentin, now at the Episcopal High school, at Alexandria, Va., will come home to attend a family reunion. Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mr. Roosevelt's elder daughter, also is expected at Sagamore Hill.

Aeroplane Christened.

New York, March 15.—What is said to have been the first christening of an aeroplane in the history of the world took place at Morris park under the auspices of the Aeronautical society. Schultz, the Chicago artist, whose dead body, with throat slashed, was found in a field near Alexandria, Va., on March 7, may be cleared up in the arrest of three negroes, charged with the murder. The accused are Richard Pines, Jean Dawsey and Calvin Johnson. A pawn ticket for a gold watch belonging to Schultz was the clue that led to the arrest.

General Bell Is Reappointed.

Washington, March 15. — President Taft has reappointed Major General J. Franklin Bell as chief of staff of the army, which position he relinquished on March 4 under the law terminating the services of the incumbent of the office of chief of staff on the expiration of the term of the president by whom he is appointed.

BLACK HAND ENEMY SLAIN

Many Arrested In Sicily For Murder of New York Policeman.

Palermo, Sicily, March 15.—The assassination of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosino, head of the Italian squad of the New York police, has stirred the police to unexpected activity. Many arrests already have been made, and these include a number of Italians with criminal records who lately have returned from the United States. The suspicions of the police are especially centered on two notorious criminals, one of whom is a thief of international reputation and the other an assassin to whose door are laid many crimes committed in New York. The latter was obliged to leave the United States because of the stringent watch kept upon him by Petrosino.

Petrosino was famous for his war on the Black Hand, and was shot to death in Marina square. Whether he was lured to the place of his death is not known, but it is believed that the detective, who during his stay in Sicily has been indefatigable in searching up the records of Sicilian criminals, had gone to the square in the hope of securing information which he considered of the utmost importance.

Angry Woman Kills Husband.

WESTON BEGINS LONG TRAMP TODAY

Veteran Starts From New York For San Francisco.

New York, March 15. — From New York to San Francisco on foot is the long tramp planned by Edward Payson Weston, the world's most famous walker, who began his journey today at the New York postoffice.

Today is Mr. Weston's seventieth birthday. His age is probably the most astonishing feature of his venture, since the walk from New York to the EDWARD P. WESTON.

Pacific coast in the time in which Mr. Weston promises to do it is one to tax severely the powers of a man half his age. He expects to cover the route, more than 4000 miles long, in 100 days, excluding Sundays. It is a matter of principle with Mr. Weston never to walk on Sunday. He devotes the day to rest and to delivering temperance lectures. The expenses of his trips are paid from the proceeds of the lectures.

Mr. Weston first attracted the world's attention as a pedestrian in 1867, when he walked from Portland, Me., to Chicago in twenty-six days. In 1907 Mr. Weston repeated that walk, but bettered his record by twenty-eight hours.

On his present trip Mr. Weston will be accompanied by journalists from various cities and an attendant and his manager.

Newport News, Va., March 15. — While attempting to thrash her son Chauncey, twenty years old, because he refused to return home with her, Mrs. Agnes Franklin, a robust widow of a sea captain, dropped dead from heart failure in a Queen street poolroom in Hampton, Va. The son became prostrated with grief and was carried bodily from the poolroom.

Gentucky Governor Had Narrow Escape

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—Governor and Mrs. Willson and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lyman, of New York, narrowly escaped death when the horses attached to Governor Willson's carriage ran away. Life Guards

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the king's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of kidney's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all dealers.

—The county commissioners have appoined Homer Decker, son of James Decker, of Pine Grove Mills, an extra clerk, as an assistant to chief clerk Edward R. Williams. This will be the first time in the history of the county that there will be two clerks to the board of county commissioners, and at first thought it might appear an item of unnecessary expense. Every year, however there is a lot of extra writing to do, such as copying and correcting tax duplicates, poll books, etc., which has been done by whomever the commissioners could secure to do it, and the amount paid for such work was between five and six hundred dollars a year. And then, because the work was done by inexperienced people mistakes were frequently made With an extra clerk in the office the work can all be done there, under supervision of the regular clerk, and the expence will be just about the same it has been for a number of years past. Mr. Decker will not begin his duties until the expiration of his term of school.

Col. Hugh S. Taylor in Tyrone.

Colonel Hugh S. Taylor, of the Fifth N. G. P., and Regimental Clerk Harry Jackson were guests at the Ward house on Tuesday evening. Col. Taylor and Clerk Jackson were on their way to Clearfield where they inspected the Fifth Regiment band. In a conversation with Col. Taylor he stated that he had already started to run down the rumor, accusing the regiment of misbehavior while in Washington. Regimental Sergeant Major Claude Smith was sent to Washington and is working on the case and already has good evidence as to whom the guilty parties were and from all accounts the Washington people will not have to go far away from their city to get the right people, at any rate the Pennsylvania troops are clear of the charge. The writer accompanied company B from Bellefonte and can vouch for both that company and company D from Blairsville as to their good behavior, in fact the boys did not feel like doing anything after their long march of eight miles through the slush and water and were only too glad to get back to where it was warm and comfortable. Their march from where they were quartered to the Union depot was made in quick time and after they arrived at the station they cast their blankets on the cement floor inside the gates and waited until the train was ready to convey them back into God's country, Pennsylvania. The Washington Star and Post have sent apologies to Col. Taylor and say they will retract their articles.—Tyrone Herald.

Deadly Adder Drops on Man;

Opening the door of a reptile case in the Bronx zoological garden yesterday George Snyder, head keeper, was transfixed with terror as a puff adder, one of the most venomous snakes, swung from the door grating upon his arm.

The keeper stood absolutely motionless fearing to make the slightest sound to call for aid. As he looked into the beady eyes of the adder, Snyder felt, with a new thrill of horror that he was swiftly sinking into a hypnotic spell under the influence of the reptile's power to charm.

Another keeper saw Snyder's peril and with a horse-hair lariat used to snare snakes, he looped the puff adder's head, swollen to three times its normal size and in a moment had it in the cage again.

Snyder was so weakened by the terrible experience that he was relieved from duty for the day.

JOSEPH W. FUREY.

A Former Editor of the Watchman Dies at Lock Haven.

Joseph W. Furey, for many years a resident of Bellefonte, and at one time associate Editor of the Democratic Watchman died at the home of his son-in-law E. B. O'Reilly, at Lock Haven Monday morning at 8.30 o'clock. For the past 18 years he had been an invalid and except for an occasional automobile ride about the city, had been confined to his home. His illness began with an attack of erysipelas, followed by nervous prostration and later paralysis of the limbs ensued. In spite of his misfortune he never complained, but generally was in a happy frame of mind and chatted pleasantly and joked with his family and friends. He spent much of his time reading papers, magazines, books etc., and in writing poems, for which he was noted. Since the beginning of November he has been failing rapidly until death ensued as above stated.

Joseph W. Furey was born in Pleasant Gap, Centre county, his parents being William and Rachel Williams Furey. He grew to boyhood and was educated in the school at that place and at Bellefonte academy, which was then conducted by Rev. Alfred Armstrong. After graduating from the academy he went to Jersey Shore and apprenticed himself to Robert Baker to learn the printing trade. After mastering the art, he in company with the son of his employer, went to Decatur, Ala., late in 1859 and engaged in printing and newspaper work, But the two young men had hardly gotten rightly settled in the south, when the southern states began to secede from the union and war clouds loomed up in the horizon. Being northern young men they rightly decided that they had better come north, which they did without any further parleying. During a portion of the time that the war was in progress Mr. Furey was employed in the government printing office at Washington, and then came to Bellefonte and engaged in newspaper work here. In 1867 he in co-partnership with W. P. Furey, became the editors and proprietors of The Clinton Democrat, succeeding John H. Orth. J. W. Furey withdrew from the firm after a few months, and W. P. Furey continued as proprietor until he sold out to Whaley & Orth. The subject of this sketch then returned to Bellefonte and became associate editor of the Democratic Watchman, of which Hon. P. Gray Meek was then and is yet the publisher and proprietor. His breezy, snappy writings and humorous hits were eagerly read and won for him more than local distinction. After about 12 years' work on the Watchman, the publishers and proprietors of the Lock Haven Democrat secured his services as editor, and he removed to that city with his family in 1888. After occupying the editorial chair for four years he was unfortunately stricken with illness and was compelled to give up his labors and remain indoors nearly all the time, but he kept in close touch with the events of the day and delighted to comment on governmental and political affairs in conversation with his friends.

As a writer on political or local subjects, "Joe" Furey, as he was familiarly called, possessed a peculiar form of originality which was refreshing and hence it was always a genuine pleasure to read the productions from his pen. He possessed a fertile mind and his wit and humor were almost limitless, and many a little pungent squib from his pen has driven away the blues from a dyspeptic and has caused the sorrowful and the weary to smile and to take new courage. Politically, Mr. Furey always espoused the principles of the Democratic party and earnestly supported its candidates. He was of a sunny disposition, and in the days when he passed to and fro on the streets, swinging his cane, he always had a cherry word for all his acquaintances whom he met. He was a kind husband and an indulgent father, and through the years of his invalidism, his dutiful wife and children lovingly and unceasingly administered to his every need, and saw to it that he was made comfortable and contented.

As a testimonial of Mr. Furey's ability as a writer of verse, there are in the possession of his family a limited number of bound volumes of poems. As many of his stray poems as could be collected, were gathered together and printed in green velvet binding, and last Christmas one of the volumes was presented to the veteran editor. Thus was realized one of the dreams of his life. Many of the poems are touching, while others are of a lighter vein.

Deceased was aged 72 years on December 28 last and is survived by his wife and three children, Lewis Furey, of New York City, Mrs. W. J. Mitchell of Ithaca, N. Y., and Mrs. E. B. O'Reily, of Lock Haven, all of whom, as well as the only surviving sister of a family of five, Mrs. Georgiana Dale, of Lemont, Centre county, were at the bedside when the spirst of Mr. Furey took its flight to the great world beyond.

Funeral services were conducted at his home in Lock Haven Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. John A. MacSporran, pastor of Great Island Presbyterian church. The friends were invited to attend the services, but the interment, which was made in Highland cemetery were private.

The following poem, of which Mr. Furey is the author, is presented in connection with this obituary notice, as it is especially appropriate:

A FANTASY.

The "days of my years" will be few, my friend
The "days of my years" will be few;
And soon on my grave, in the morning light
You will see the glittering dew, my friend.
You will see the glittering dew.

My hair will never be gray my friend.
My hair will never be gray.
But my locks will be dark as ever they were
In the joy of my youthful day, my friend,
In the joy of my youthful day.

For something whispers to me, my friend
In a voice all solemn and still,
In a few short years I shall be in my grave,
'Neath the sod of the cemet'ry hill my friend
'Neath the sod of the cemet'ry hill.

And when you hear that "he's gone," my friend,
You'll think of what I have said,
And drop, perchance, a tear for him
Who's sleeping amongst the dead my friend,
Who's sleeping amongst the dead.

Academy Defeats State College Stars.

Tuesday night the Academy basket ball team defeated a team of "stars" picked from State College players by the close score of 31-30. The "Independents" as the visitors called themselves were larger and heavier than the Academy boys and to all the greater credit is due the locals for their hard earned victory. The gymnasium was packed with the most excited crowd of the season. From the very start it was evident that the Academy players would have to exert all the cleverness grit and force at their command to play an even game with their sturdy opponents, and so they played their very best from the very blow of the whistle until time was called leaving them victors by the majority of one point. Intense excitement prevailed all through the game as now one team and then the other would forge ahead and the boys from the hill never let up for a moment in their cheering and loyal support of their plucky players Every member of the Academy team deserves great credit for his clever work plucky spirit. McCandless and Wright deserve special mention.

Brick Roads Are Wanted.

A preference for brick pavements in towns and country districts instead of macadam roads is being shown in petitions to the State Highway department. Many requests have been made for estimates on such construtions. The tests of roads and brick pavements have shown that the brick roads, while a little more expensive, outlast the macadam.

We have come to believe that it is a mistake to build any other than brick roads in a section like this, and hope the further highway construction in this vicinity will be of that character.
